The Czar and His Councillors Conclude to Adopt Pacific Measures.

ENGLAND'S INFLUENCE

It is Said Has Materially Changed the Warlike Policy of the Russian Government.

Advices From the Far East Today Centain Nothing of an Alarmist Nature.

London, Jan. 18.-The Times' Tokio correspondent says that in recent speeches by publicists the claim was made that Japan is fighting for Anglo-Saxon ideals in Asia instead of military despotism and that several Tokio journals rejoice that "America is now in the same camp with Japan."

The Russian correspondents of the Times hear that a special council presided over by the Czar arrived at the conclusion that war should be averted. The inference, they say, is that the speech of Premier Balfour at Manchester Jan. 11, in which he said: "No one can contemplate hostilities between two great civilized countries without feelings of misgiving and of depression," declaring that Great Britain would carry out to the fullest extent all her treaty obligations, greatly influences this decision.

It is reported that as a result of this conclusion Russia intends to open ports in Manchuria, withdraw her pretensions to Korea and possibly not retain Port Arthur as a military strong-

SITUATION IN JAPAN

The People Calmly Awaiting the Word for War.

Tokio, Jan. 18.-Japan does not anticipate Russia's rejoinder for at least one week. In the meantime the nation is prepared and grimly reconciled to war. Political and other distinctions have disappeared and the country is patriotically united. The government is receiving many offers of contributions in the event of war, amounting to many millions of yen.

The Japanese people would welcome an honorable peace, but are resolved to fight before receding from their position in Oriental affairs. They fear the aggression of Russia and believe if it is not stopped now it will never be stopped. They are confident that their demands are fair and moderate and their diplomacy which has been patient, has gone to a reasonable limit. They expect the world's sympathy in the struggle and have a splendid confidence in their army and navy. In the event of reverse or a national disaster it is thought that England and the United States would intervene to preserve a balance of power in Eastern Asia. There is no fear of an invasion of Japan, a country which is probably the most strongly defended one in the world. The growth of British and American sentiment is remarked. Numerous displays of the flags of the two nations are made and popular songs reciting the glories of the "Lion" and "Uncle Sam" are sung. The characters of "Uncle Sam" and "Johnny Bull" are also seen at public dances. The activity of the United States in the opening of the ports of Mukden and Antung is keenly watched and in some quarters it is hoped that this may aid in solving the problem of insuring peace. The censorship prohibits the publication of military movements.

What the Czar Sald Produced a Quieting Effect.

RUSSIA CALMS DOWN

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.-Emperor Nicholas' pacific utterances made during the new year's reception at the winter palace in St. Petersburg Thursday last, together with the favorable which have been reproduced here have created a splendid impression and have also had a good effect in perceptibly diminishing the war talk in army and navy circles, which were quick to take their cue from the assurances coming from the throne. The newspapers which have been discussing the far Eastern situation with considerable freedom have grown almost silent, and what they do say is commen-
